Brunello di Sonoma
Estate Grown

Who knew you could produce stunning results in California with Italian varieties? Lorenzo Petroni knew. He was the first California vintner to grow the prized Sangiovese Grosso clone. The Brunello di Sonoma is Petroni's flagship wine. Excellent sun exposure and optimum climate ensure the slow ripening of the grapes, which in turn, makes wine of great depth and complexity. The palate is full bodied, mouth coating and richly flavored. The flavors mirror the aromas; earthy, intense, loads of cherry fruit and complex flavors.

Cabernet Sauvignon
Estate Grown

Petroni Vineyards Cabernet Sauvignon is an estate grown wine but from a very unusual vineyard made up of various slopes and elevations. There were five different clones planted to ensure the highest quality fruit that would yield a balanced and memorable Cabernet Sauvignon. The variance of elevation produces grapes that are balanced and earthy. Petroni's Cabernet Sauvignon is richly scented with aromas that include milk chocolate, blueberries, red currant, and a slight floral spearmint note. Bold and approachable, the rich chocolate fruit coats the palate underpinned with abundant soft velvety tannins and moderate acidity. The finish is balanced, long lasting and memorable. The wine gets its silky mouth-feel from being barrel-aged in new French oak for 18 months.

Chardonnay

An organic grape-growing philosophy with minimal intervention in the cellar and a faith in Sonoma Valley as a premium winegrowing region is the driving force behind Petroni Vineyards. The high elevation of Petroni's vineyard keeps the vines cool and promotes a longer ripening period to allow full flavor development and optimal retention of acidity. Produced using classic Burgundian techniques, Petroni's 2008 Chardonnay exhibits aromas of grapefruit, melon, citrus and hints of butterscotch. An extremely appealing texture that glides across the palate, it finishes elegantly with lingering fruit, subtle classy French oak notes and superb balance.

Rosato di Sonoma
Estate Grown

Who knew you could produce stunning results in California with Italian varieties? Lorenzo Petroni knew. He was the first California vintner to grow the prized Sangiovese Grosso clone. The sassy Rosato di Sonoma is crafted from Sangiovese, Cabernet Sauvignon, and Syrah grapes grown in Petroni's estate vineyards, one of which overlooks the Sonoma Valley from high in the Mayacamas Mountains. The mineral-rich volcanic soil of the high altitude vineyard gives the fruit a complex character. This Rosato exhibits exuberant aromas of fresh wild strawberries and cream. The almost imperceptible sweetness is perfectly balanced with fresh acidity and generous full body.

Syrah
Estate Grown

An organic grape-growing philosophy with minimal intervention in the cellar and a faith in Sonoma Valley as a premium winegrowing region is the driving force behind Petroni Vineyards. The grapes for the Petroni Syrah are grown in two separate Estate vineyards: one vineyard gives the wine subtle richness and depth while the other adds power, complexity, and spice. To preserve the richness, the finished wine was neither fined nor filtered. Elegantly perfumed with red berry and Rhone-like characters of licorice, spice and earth. The palate is complex, savory with concentrated fruit and packed with fine tannins. The aromas extend on to the palate with fresh acidity, a long lasting finish and an old world rusticity.

Rosso di Sonoma
ESTATE GROWN

The Rosso di Sonoma is a blend of Syrah, Sangiovese, and Cabernet Sauvignon. The rich volcanic soil of the Sangiovese and Cabernet vineyard, impart power and dimension to the grapes. While the very high elevation of the Syrah vineyard, know for loamy soil, gives the grapes a rich earthiness that balances the other grapes. The result: joyous rhapsody that will ring harmoniously on the palate. Sweet ripe blackberry, black cherry, fruit cake spices, vanilla, caramel and floral notes flood the senses with a hint of citrus zest and cedar in the background. The ripe flavors are balanced nicely with tangy acidity and subdued tannins which keep this wine dense, fresh and easy to drink.
